COLUMBIA'S NATAL DAY

Observed in Many Different Ways in the City.

AMUSEMENT FOR EVERYONE

The Largest Parade Ever Seen in Anaconda-Exceptionally Fine Exercises at the Park in the Morning.

The Fourth of July was celebrated with due patriotic fervor by the residents of Anaconda. The day was a perfect one, being neither too hot or yet too cold, but just a pleasant medium temperature. A little before sunrise the awakening morn was ushered in by the thundering of canons, that a few minutes later was taken up by the explosion of large fire crackers at all points of the city.

At 10 o'clock a. m. the largest parade ever seen in the city started upon the march along the principal streets of the town. Every order and organization within the city was represented in some form. Grand Marshal Quane and his assistants won much praise for the able manner in which they handled the parade. The procession was more than 10 blocks in length, and was not an easy one to manoeuver. The car of state loaded with little children was a sight that pleased

After the parade reached the park the After the parade reached the park the exercises were commenced under the presidency of Hon. Daniel Dwyer. Miss Davidson's splendid rendition of the Declaration of Independence brought forth hearty applause. After the band had played an inspiriting air, Col. T. O'Leary, the orator of the day, was introduced and held his large audience spell bound for 30 minutes, while he delivered an address that has seldom, if ever, been equalled on similiar occasions. similiar occasions.

In the afternoon the immense crowd was divided between the circus, the races and the Knights of Pythias dance. The circus had received considerable unfavorable comment from some of the Montana circus had received considerable unfavorable comment from some of the Montana towns it had visited, so that the show here was better than was expected, the specialties being in many instances really good. At the race track a good afternoon's sport was enjoyed. In the 600 yard dash Will Evans' Willie E. won; Frank Whitley's Jim, second, and R. P. Burch's Carroll Slim, third. In the pacing race John Nelson's Black Tom won, after Mr. Burch's Grey Ned had secured the two first heats. J. A. Hasley was awarded the prize in the bicycle race through Mr. Schultz being disqualified owing to the manner in which he started. In the quarter of a mile heat running race V. Staton's Grey Dick won in the third heat, closely pressed by C. Chaddock's Kate Pease, who captured the second heat. There were four horses started in the mixed pacing and trotting race, but there were only two horses really in it. Giles Brownell's Athelston won the first and third heat by very closely contested finishes with William Miller's Meteor, who captured the second heat. There was over $1,000 changed hands through the pool boxes.

The Knights of Pythias dance was a

$1,000 changed hands through the pool boxes.

The Knights of Pythias dance was a pronounced success and both afternoon and evening the large pavilion at the park was crowded. The following named person's were adjudged winners of the prizes offered for the best waltzers in the afternoon: First lady's prize, gold watch and chain, Miss Alma Killgren. First gentleman's prize, one year's subscription to the STANDARD, J. W. Maruny.

In the evening dance Miss G. H. Burge, won the lady's first prize, consisting of a lovely dress pattern. Second lady's prize, Mrs. Winnie Sparrow, perfume case. First gentleman's prize, a handsomely carved meerschaum pipe, was won by Edward Surpenant. Second gentleman's prize, a battle scene, John Nagle. The dance was very largely attended and the contest was most spirited.

About 10 o'clock in the evening the exhibition of fireworks commenced from the hill south of town. As a whole they were good, though they would have made a far better showing if they had been nearer to the city.

The Fourth was a day in Anaconda full of enjoyment for all. There was nothing to mar the day. The younger generation considered themselves more than fortunate in having a circus performance in the city beside the usual attraction.

After the Buttle. William Trathen, who was shot in the the night of July 3, was reported to be progressing favorably yesterday. Several small pieces of bone were splintered from his shin, and were extracted by the doc-fors.

George Elston found out a few hours after the accident that he had been struck in the leg with a flying fragment of the cannon, and has been almost unable to walk since. It is thought that he was struck with the ramrod, which afterwards rebounded and struck the side of the building. George says that if he ever goes to the wars the artillery branch of the service will not hold out any inducements for him. He would rather be in the commissary department.

one scott Bates by striking him with his fist. The court found the defendant guilty as charged and assessed a fine against him of $10 and costs.

There were no cases in the city side of the court, which makes a pretty good showing considering the previous day was the national birthday.

F. Kemna & Co. THE HEALTH OFFICER.

Be Gives to a Reporter an Interview Regarding Small-Pox.

Speaking of the small-pox cases Dr. Speaking of the small-pox cases Dr. Speaking of the small-pox cases Dr. Speaking of the small-pox at the time when it first manifested itself in this city. On that score I can only say that the primary cases were not reported promptly to me as health officer. As soon as I got knowledge of them, prompt action was taken, and in instances, I acted ahead of my associates, as it was not easy to get the board of health into organized work. From the first, the quarantine has been effective, preventive measures have been faithfully followed up, no effort has been spared to defend the people against the spreading of the scourge. Furniture goods and bedding in infected houses have been destroyed and the work of disinfecting has been thoroughly done.

"There has not been any effort," added Dr. Spelman, "to keep from the public the facts about the disease. There have been 13 cases, all told. Three have been discharged, three of the patients now at the pest house are quite sick, the rest are convalescing and doing very nicely. There charged, three of the patients now at the pest house are quite sick, the rest are convalescing and doing very nicely. There has been one death, and from the circumstances in that case, it can safely be said that small pox itself was not directly responsible for the fatality.

"Last Monday," continued the health officer "two new cases were reported.

To-day one patient was put in quarantine and three others, which seemed suspicious, are being properly watched to await developments. It is not at all certain that these will develop into smallpox vietims.

await developments. It is not at all certain that these will develop into smallpox victims.

"If some of the people in the town would get the facts instead of permitting themselves to be influenced or alarmed by groundless rumors. I am certain," continued Dr. Spelman, "that there would be very much less discontent. Those who have the business in hand are doing the utmost that can be done. I may not give satisfaction as health officer, but even if I am open to criticism, I know perfectly well that I do not deserve the denunciation which a few angry people seem disposed to heap upon me. The city is being guarded with the utmost vigilance and every case or suspicion of a case is promptly attended to and vigorously followed.

"I am willing to submit my conduct in this matter to the most careful scrutiny of any health board or health officer in Montana. Of course, if the community prefers to pass over the duties of health officer to another man, I am prepared to yield promptly and cheerfully, but I am perfectly conscious that the manner in which I have proceeded, in harmony with the members of the board of health, does not deserve the loud denunciation that comes from some quarters. All I ask, as long as I am health officer, is fair treatment at the hands of the fair-minded people in this community."

Notice is hereby given that all persons knowing themselves indebted to us are requested to call and settle before the 15th. After that date all unsettled ac-counts will be placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection. Burke Bros.
